Parents

Parents Views

Being able to attend an activity or gathering with my child without feeling uncomfortable or judged or looked down upon with friendly people who are caring and supportive and very understanding and non judgmental.

Tips and advice which I have taken from the chat sessions I have attended to help advocate for my child.

I appreciate the support that has now empowered myself in meetings

I love the coffee and chats it really helps to talk to people who understand and share experiences

I am incredibly thankful for this group with the information you provide and events you put on

It's been helpful to hear others experiences and to find some solidarity

I have made invaluable friendships, great helpful advice
